6:30 PM Dr. McPhee opened the meeting. Everyone gave a self-round introduction as usual and then updated local and National AANCART. The National AANCART is the NCI's special population network now becomes the Community Network program. It's a 5-year grant refunded for 5 more years. The first 5 years were focused on all cancers and all ethnics with paid interns made presentations and wrote papers many of which were published. Dr. McPhee talked about Angela Sun's and Avaon Wong-Kim's papers which published in Cancer Control in November. Sabrina Wong's paper was published in December in the Journal of Cancer. Cindy

Lai is attending a ward right now received a fifty thousand dollar grant working on Hepatitis B paper in the Chinese is being submitted to a journal. Grace Yu and Mai Nhung Le are in the process of writing their first paper. All four projects finished on time and are submitting their reports. We are now giving mini-grants and there are many applying but we couldn't fund them all. 5 interns are granted a 1000-dollar mini grants to work on cancer awareness, not research, are Richard Shu, Sambo Ly, Arnab Mukherjea, Sandy Ng., and Mary Nacionales.
